BIO

Shuey grew up in Melbourne, attending Marcellin College and playing local football for Bulleen-Templestowe. In 2008, he earned selection for Oakleigh Chargers in the TAC Cup, then Vic Metro at the Under 18 Championships, winning the team's Best & Fairest award.

A strong performance at Draft Camp saw his name called by West Coast with the 18th pick in the 2008 National Draft.

Relocating on the other side of the country as an 18-year-old, Shuey faced a number of off-field challenges in his first few seasons, including injuries, illness, and the passing of his sister in Melbourne. With the support of the Eagles, Shuey spent time away from the club before returning ahead of the 2011 season, primed and ready to make his mark on the AFL.

Coming from a tight knit family, Shuey is husband to Danielle and father to Oliver and Georgia.

A passionate family man, he returns to his home in Melbourne at every opportunity, while he also enjoys spending time in the garden and with his dog.

Heavily invested in leadership and culture, Shuey has a healthy interest in the coaching side of football and enjoys working with the younger players to assist in their growth, while away from the game, he has an interest in property development.

“It’s a huge honour to not only play 200 AFL games, but to play them at this footy club, a place I have absolutely fallen in love with and the people who have been involved.
