BIO

Sam Petrevski-Seton grew up and played his junior football in the country town of in Halls Creek, WA.

A childhood that was driven by football and bull-riding, Petrevski-Seton was offered the opportunity to move to Perth and attend the Clontarf Aboriginal College.

Debuting for Claremont in the WAFL Colts under 18's at the age of 15 and senior team at the age of 17 showed that Petrevski-Seton had the skill and poise to play at a high level.

A strong Under 18's championship resulted in All-Australian selection which saw Petrevski-Seton be selected by the Carlton Football Club with Pick 6 in the 2016 AFL National Draft.

Over 5 seasons at Carlton, Petrevski-Seton played his best football through the midfield and forward line, notching up 94 games to his name.

He made the move home to Western Australia ahead of the 2022 season to play with the West Coast Eagles.

Sam is a keen fisherman that will always try to get back to Halls Creek to see family and friends on the off-season.
